Session Description including objectives and expected outcomes (500 words maximum):

We will organize a talkshow that would do a deep dive into Indonesian WASH professionals, while the take home message would offer a universal insight applicable to similar contexts globally.

The session would highlight the critical role of professional competency in navigating the future challenges of the WASH sector, particularly emphasizing the integration of climate resilience and fostering positive stakeholder engagement. By recognizing the significance of competent stakeholders and professional, the session aims to shed light on existing gaps in professional competency within the WASH sector and to chart a course towards addressing these shortcomings in anticipation of forthcoming challenges.

Through a collaborative approach, the session will facilitate panel and group discussions to meticulously examine these gaps, challenges, and potential action plans aimed at fortifying WASH professional competency. This inclusive dialogue will serve as a platform for brainstorming innovative strategies and solutions geared towards enhancing the sustainability and resilience of WASH practices.

By fostering a participatory environment, the session aims to foster a collective commitment towards advancing the capacity and expertise of WASH professionals, thereby paving the way for a more robust and adaptable WASH sector ready to tackle its evolving challenges such as climate impact and resiliency.
